Happy New Year!

All Staff Meeting Recap:

The air on campus may be crisp, but it is warmed by the excitement of a new academic year.

On August 24, President Casey and members of the President’s Council provided the framework for Colgate’s 199th year, #YR199, a year that promises to be a year of significant planning as we build our legacy for our 3rd century.

An overview was provided of the class of 2021, new faculty and new staff and a virtual tour of the new residence halls was shared.

President Casey outlined the planning that will take place throughout the fall, with review and coordination to start in 2018.

With a busy and exciting year ahead of us, President Casey reminded everyone to take care of each other.

Support Staff Needed
Support staff needed for a lively, musical 12-year-old boy who has autism (severe form) in Hamilton, NY. As a member of his support team, you will assist our son as he works on taking care of himself (e.g. eating neatly, dressing, toileting), entertains himself (e.g. assisting with iPad, computer, TV), accompany him as he exercises, to therapy appointments, and other outings. You will encourage him to speak, sing, read, play games, and help around the house. If you enjoy supporting people with disabilities and helping them to reach their full potential, this job is for you. We welcome applications from those with experience and/or coursework in special education, therapy or care for persons with disabilities, as well as those who are currently exploring these fields. Training will be provided by a certified special education teacher and through the Resource Center for Independent Living. Up to 8 hours/week are currently available with additional hours possible in upcoming months. Shifts are primarily weekday evenings and weekends, with some daytime hours during school vacations. Starting pay range is $11-$15.50/hour, depending on education and experience. We are looking for someone who will enjoy our son’s spontaneity and joyfulness, and who has the energy and confidence to guide him effectively. If you have questions or would like to apply, please write to me at rconti@colgate.edu. To apply, please explain why you are interested in the job, describe your related experience and/or education, and provide contact information for 2 references who can attest to your appropriateness for this position.

Recipe of the month: Sweet Potato Turmeric Soup
BY: PATRICIA BANNAN

Ingredients
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
1 small onion, diced
1/2 teaspoon kosher salt
1 clove garlic, chopped
2 large sweet potatoes (about 1 ½ pounds), peeled and cut into 1-inch cubes
1 large red apple, peeled, cored and diced
2 teaspoons ground ginger
2 teaspoons ground turmeric
4 cups low-sodium chicken or vegetable broth
A few fresh herbs for garnish, such as basil or oregano (optional)
A drizzle of plain Greek yogurt for garnish, thinned out with orange juice or water as needed (optional)

Directions
In a large pot, heat the oil over medium heat. Add the onion and season with salt. Cook until translucent, about 5 minutes.
Add the garlic and cook for about 2 more minutes, until fragrant. Add the sweet potatoes, apple, ginger, and turmeric. Cook for 1 minute. Add the broth and raise the heat to medium-high, bringing the mixture to a boil. Reduce the heat to low and let simmer for about 30 minutes or until the sweet potatoes are fork tender. Using a blender or hand-held stick blender, puree the mixture. Return the mixture to the pot over medium-low heat until ready to serve. Just before serving, garnish with a few fresh herbs and drizzle of Greek yogurt, if desired. Enjoy immediately while warm.

Spices For a New School Year

Colgate Dining Services will be offering a variety of options. It’s a new school year and for many, this is also the time to start looking at their diet—what changes can be made to improve or enhance it. An easy place to start is looking at your usual recipes—is there an opportunity to reduce the salt, sugar, or even fat by using spices. By adding spiced, herbs, or flavors such as citrus juice and vinegars, you can still have great flavor without the sugar and salt.

Dried herbs are more concentrated than fresh so if substituting in a recipe use 1/3 the amount of dry to fresh herbs.

Store dried herbs and spices in airtight containers and in a cool, dark cupboard or pantry. It is recommended to purchase smaller bottles since they do have a shelf life.

Add your spices during the cooking process, taste and adjust. If you do need to add salt do that at the end. Perhaps you can even eliminate it.

Here are a few suggestions for your spice pantry...

Freshly ground black pepper
Cayenne pepper
Oregano
Cumin
Garlic powder
Onion powder
Bay leaf
Curry powder
Thyme
Smoked Paprika
Nutmeg
Turmeric
Clove
Cinnamon
Chili powder
Italian herb blend
Unsettled Conditions: How We Talk about the Environment and Our Place in It
Longyear Museum of Anthropology
September 19–December 17, 2017
From the Tuareg in the Sahara to the Inuit in the Arctic, and from island communities in the Pacific to communities in central New York, this student co-curated exhibition explores human interactions with diverse environments. How do environments shape us, and how do we shape environments? How do we talk about the environment and our experiences within it, and why does that matter? How do we imagine our future environments, and what are we doing now to help shape those possibilities?

Landmarked: Selected Landscapes from the Permanent Collection
Picker Art Gallery
September 21–December 17, 2017
Featuring paintings, drawings, prints, and photographs, this exhibition examines how artists have depicted natural and built environments and how, in turn, their perceptions of landscape were structured by the philosophical, social, political, and economic contexts within which they operated. Addressing themes that resonate with current debates about environment, land use, and identity, the artworks reveal many of the complex ways in which people and land influence each other, as well as how these relationships continuously shift and change.
