

THE 1819 BOOK

Honoring the service of Colgate University volunteers

2023

COLGATE UNIVERSITY

The 1819 Book is an annual publication that recognizes the significant effort of those alumni, families, and friends who support the University, its faculty, and its students through their service to Colgate.

These volunteers serve on governance and advisory boards, alumni and student engagement councils, and fundraising committees — and their efforts make it possible for Colgate to reach new levels of excellence.

It is with gratitude and respect that we honor the work and support of all those listed here. Without their contributions, Colgate would not be the distinctive university that it is today.

I. UNIVERSITY GOVERNING BOARDS

Board of Trustees

The Colgate University Board of Trustees is responsible for stewardship of the University. Membership on the board includes alumni, parents of students, and the University president. Six of Colgate's trustees are also members of the Alumni Council and serve as alumni trustees to provide council perspective and facilitate communication between the two groups.

Alumni Council

The Alumni Council represents the more than 34,000 living members of Colgate's alumni body. The mission of the council is to support the University; advance Colgate's Third-Century Plan; promote dialogue among alumni, students, faculty, University administration, and the Board of Trustees; and to promote alumni engagement. The Alumni Council convenes at Colgate three times per year and is available to share updates with and hear perspectives from the alumni body year-round.

II. CENTERS AND INSTITUTES ADVISORY COMMITTEES

Center for Freedom and Western Civilization External Advisory Board

Since 2004, Colgate University's Center for Freedom and Western Civilization has been a forum for public debate and scholarly research on the Western heritage of freedom and civilization. Members of the external advisory board offer guidance and strategic advice to the directors and bring perspectives to the center from outside the University.

Lampert Friends of the Institute

The Lampert Institute engages Colgate students and faculty with the most pressing public policy issues shaping the trajectory of the 21st century. It aims to foster an intellectual community of students, faculty, experts, and practitioners from the policy world to analyze significant problems and advance discussions in a balanced, rigorous, and public-minded way. Members of the external advisory board offer guidance and strategic advice to the directors and bring perspectives to the center from outside the University.

Thought Into Action Advisory Board

For more than a decade, Colgate's Thought Into Action program (TIA) has provided Colgate students with opportunities to not only create new enterprises but to engage in entrepreneurial and innovative thinking. Through TIA, large numbers of Colgate graduates work directly with participants, providing invaluable service to these students.

ALANA Cultural Center Volunteers

The ALANA Cultural Center serves as a learning place and social space where Colgate students, faculty, and staff gather to learn about multicultural heritages, struggles, and accomplishments. Volunteers help to carry out ALANA's mission in diverse ways, assisting with community building; improving social justice; celebrating the unique cultures and histories of those in our community; helping students to feel empowered to take ownership of their lives; and providing education and engagement.

Alumni Admission Program Volunteers

The Alumni Admission Program supports the Office of Admission in its charge to “attract and enroll students of profound promise and achievement.” Alumni volunteers are vital ambassadors of Colgate in their communities. Through their conduct, engagement, and spirit, Colgate alumni volunteers help the University to attract a more diverse student body from a wider geographic footprint.

Alumni of Color Volunteers

The Colgate Alumni of Color organization was established in 1986 as a way for alumni of color to network and stay connected to one another. Alumni of color have expanded their involvement with Colgate by volunteering their time and talent, as well as investing their financial resources into programs and funds that support Colgate's liberal arts mission. Alumni of color participate in multiple avenues of involvement and engagement with the University and dedicate themselves to helping the next generation of Colgate students of color in any way possible.

Class Editors

Class editors complete quarterly columns for Colgate Magazine. For each column, class editors contact their classmates through a group email system or their personal channels to obtain general updates about classmates' lives. These columns allow alumni to stay in touch with one another, creating a sense of community.

Professional Network Volunteers

The Colgate Professional Networks provide a platform for alumni, family members, and students with similar professional interests to learn from and inspire each other. The networks provide opportunities to hear from industry leaders and engage in cutting-edge conversations; to discover employment options; and to seek expert opinions. Professional Network volunteers lead the way by developing strategies and initiatives to achieve these goals.

Regional Leaders

Regional Leaders represent Colgate's major regional markets and are tasked with promoting engagement and community among Colgate alumni within the area. These leaders develop strategies to meet specific engagement goals as developed by Colgate, with a particular focus on those who have been less engaged. This group serves as the connective tissue for the local Colgate communities across the country and helps to amplify Third-Century Plan priorities and messaging.

Thought Into Action Mentors

The Thought Into Action Incubator is a year-long program in which aspiring entrepreneurs build a venture that solves a problem in the for-profit, nonprofit, or campus/community arena. Founders are supported by robust programs, funding opportunities, dedicated spaces, and a highly engaged group of alumni and parent mentors with deep domain expertise.

Parents' Steering Committee

The Colgate Parents' Steering Committee is a community of parents and grandparents who strengthen the University's distinctive brand of excellence through their significant philanthropic support. These families deepen their relationship with Colgate and other members, while making an important impact on campus.

Planned Giving Committee

The Planned Giving Committee is a long-standing advisory committee. The committee meets two times per year and provides Colgate and the Planned Giving Office with technical and marketing assistance in the planned gift area. Assistance is provided by alumni members with backgrounds in marketing, finance, banking, insurance, and law. Planned Giving Committee members also serve as advocates, usually through personal letters and printed materials providing beneficial alumni-peer contact on an as-needed basis.
